

FREE ADULT EDUCATION CLASSES SUMMER 2017

AASD Community Education Center (CEC) (Steven's Building)

200 East Crawford Ave., Altoona, PA 16602

Contact (814) 946-8330

Email: cecclassinfo@aadscat.com

Website: <http://aadsccec.weebly.com/>

New Student Orientation (Choose the orientation that fits your schedule. Note: must attend all 3 days)

 Call the CEC for more information or to reserve your seat
 July 17th (Full Day), July 18th (AM only), and July 20th
 August 28th (Full Day), August 29th (AM only) and August 31st

TABE Testing (by appointment)

@ CEC Wed. mornings & one Wed. evening/month

~~~

@ CareerLink® two Fridays/month (call to register for
 CareerLink® testing @ (814) 940-6201

Class Schedule

Classes to brush up on basic skills to enter postsecondary education, training, or employment.
 High School Equivalency Prep classes also available!

| Class                  | Date                            | Time           | Description                                                                                                                          |
|------------------------|---------------------------------|----------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Math 1                 | Mon, Tues, Wed, Thurs           | 9:00 - 11:30am | Course helps to build basic Math skills                                                                                              |
| Reading /Language Arts | Mon, Tues, Wed, Thurs           | Noon - 2:30pm  | Course helps to improve Reading and Writing skills for GED and/or career preparation (Includes Science and Social Studies Materials) |
| Math 2                 | Mon, Tues, Wed, Thurs           | 9:00 - 11:30am | Course helps to improve Math skills for GED and/or career preparation                                                                |
| College Prep Math      | Mon - ThursJune 19 - Aug 17 | 9:00 - 11:00am | Pre-Algebra & Introductory Algebra                                                                                                   |
| GED Prep Evening Class | Tues and Wed                    | 5:00 - 7:30pm  | Offered to students who are unable to attend daytime classes                                                                         |

Interested in earning your High School Equivalency diploma?

You now have 2 options!

Online Testing:* Visit GED.com to register for the Official GED Practice Tests and the Official GED® Test

~

The nearest approved GED® Testing Centers are:

AASD, Altoona, PA (Blair County), St. Francis University, Loretto, PA (Cambria County) and the Development Center for Adults, Pleasant Gap, PA (Centre County)

~

Paper/Pencil Testing:* Visit hiset.ets.org for more information about the HiSET Exam.

The nearest approved HiSET Testing Centers are in Bedford and Huntingdon.

Call us at CEC 946-8330! We can help you achieve your educational goals!

FREE ADULT EDUCATION CLASSES SUMMER 2017

| Class                                            | Date                                                                                     | Time                                                       | Description                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|--------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Medical Terminology                              | Tues & ThursJuly 25 – Aug 22                                                         | 5:30 – 8:00pm                                              | Provides a basic foundation for students wanting to enter any health care career. Knowledge of medical terms (prefixes, suffixes, roots), systems of the body, organs and diseases are a few of the topics covered. |
| Health Care Math @CEC                            | Tues, Wed, ThursApr 25 – May 4~WedJune 28 – Aug 16                       | 5:30 – 8:00pm~Noon - 2:30pmor5:30 - 8:00pm | Review and learn basic medical math concepts                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Anatomy/Physiology                               | Tues & ThursJune 20 – July 20                                                        | 5:30 – 8:00pm                                              | Covers the essential principles of human anatomy and physiology                                                                                                                                                     |
| Distance Learning                                | Study at your own pace, at your own place!                                               |                                                            | Online courses in Workplace Skills, Reading, Writing, Math and GED Test Prep                                                                                                                                        |
| 1:1 Tutoring for Adults in Literacy and Math     | Scheduled by AppointmentCall 814-946-8495                                            |                                                            | Tutors available to help in all subject areas                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Open Classroom @ CareerLink®                     | Tuesday and Thursday                                                                     | 12:30 – 3:00pm                                             | Work at your own pace to improve Reading, Math and Writing skills(Must be registered to attend)                                                                                                                 |
| Open Classroom @ Juniata United Methodist Church | Monday & Thursday                                                                        | 9:00am – 11:30am                                           | Work at your own pace to improve Reading, Math and Writing skills.(Must be registered to attend)                                                                                                                |
| Open Classroom @ Tyrone-Snyder Community Library | Tuesday & Thursday                                                                       | 12:30 - 3:00 pm                                            | Work at your own pace to improve Reading, Math and Writing skills.(Must be registered to attend)                                                                                                                |
| AASD Family Literacy Program                     | Adult education students who have children ages Birth – 8yrs old are eligible to enroll. |                                                            | A FREE exciting family-centered literacy program for parents who enjoy learning with their children                                                                                                                 |